Summary:

Activities in FolderGames for Numbers help to motivate and strengthen early maths concepts and skills in an enjoyable and stimulating format. Games assist children in mastering basic maths skills. The activities focus on helping children to understand the relationship between number sets and numerals, to work on time-telling skills, and to count from small quantities up to 100. Children practise recognising number words, counting number sets and sequencing number sets and numerals. A variety of hands-on responses, including placing objects, clipping on clothespins and connecting the dots, keep the children actively engaged. The folders can be used with individual children, small cooperative groups, in learning centres or with families at home.
