Summary:

Make readiness skills practice fun with activities found in Big Little, part of the Super School Skills series. Fun, creative exercises help children to understand sequencing and concepts such as big, little and medium. Children develop their fine motor skills through cutting, colouring and pasting, and also learn to recognise colours, shapes, sizes and patterns. Other skills developed through the activities include counting, telling the time, sorting, matching and using alphabetical order. Options at the bottom of each activity page suggest materials and creative ideas that each child can use to transform the learning exercise into a unique artistic display.
