Summary:

Different environments create different rules. Hidden rules are the unspoken cuing mechanisms that people use to let you know that you do or do not belong. This book explores the hidden rules of class as they show up in relationships. Crossing the Tracks™ for Love reveals the secrets behind class differences and provides tips, stories and resources to help you reduce conflict, improve communication, and resolve class issues in every aspect of your life. This book shows how class differences can affect your decision making, intimacy and gender roles, eating, getting along with in-laws, raising children and employment. It provides solutions you can implement to improve your relationships, smooth transition between classes, increase opportunities for someone you care about, and move confidently in any social setting.
