Summary:

This research-based series provides instructional activities for the same four levels of thinking skills found in the Assessing Levels of Comprehension Series – Find It, Connect It, Add to It and Go Beyond It. Using a step-by-step approach to improve higher-order thinking, Building Levels of Comprehension teaches students how to understand questions and use that understanding to find answers. BLC uses the think-aloud strategy to model thinking skills and processes, preparing students for later assessment in reading comprehension. Each student book contains four sections, and each section contains eight reading passages with a mixture of multiple choice and short response questions.
