Summary:

School districts are now placing an increased emphasis on the improvement of literacy skills at an adolescent level, with the help of literacy coaches. Literacy Coaching to Build Adolescent Learning will help literacy coaches work effectively with both primary and high school teachers to enhance adolescents' literacy achievement. The book explains how the five pillars of adolescent literacy – time to read for enjoyment, choice in reading materials, strategies for reading texts, vocabulary instruction and motivation to read – should come together with the help of a literacy coach to instil in every student a love of the written word.

This invaluable resource clearly outlines the role and responsibilities of literacy coaches, and provides:

- Essential knowledge for the literacy coach
- Tips for building on the foundation of students' knowledge.
- Planning the design of a literacy program
- Tips for providing support, and
- How to revisit the design and follow up.

Supporting Resources:

- Formative Assessment for Literacy, Preparatory to Year 6 (CO8397)
- A Guide to Literacy Coaching - Helping Teachers Increase Student Achievement (CO0264)
- Teaching Visual Literacy: Using Comic Books, Graphic Novels, Anime, Cartoons, and More to Develop Comprehension and Thinking Skills (CO5481)
