Summary:

This book shows education leaders how they can become powerful agents of school reform. The author outlines twelve essential roles on the leadership team and provides practical tools for each to use in facilitating the change process. This easy-to-use, research-based volume guides principals, staff developers and other leaders through the four main functions of effective facilitators: leading the collaboration and change process; providing skills training; acting as a resource consultant; and motivating and energising the group. By following the clear, step-by-step directions in this book, educators will learn to facilitate and embrace change, leading to higher student engagement and achievement!
