Summary:

Pride & Prejudice is a school-based program designed to facilitate change in students' attitudes towards gay men and lesbians. The six-week program is interactive, engaging and challenging, giving students an avenue to discuss various socially sensitive issues. This powerful combating homophobia resource provides practical strategies for classrooms. The companion DVD introduces students to gay and lesbian young people who talk openly about their real life experiences. Formal evaluation by universities in both Victoria and Tasmania conclude that, through the Pride & Prejudice program, students' attitudes towards gay men and lesbians changed significantly over six weeks.
