Summary:

In this revised Australian edition for 2010, Patti Drapeau introduces educators for years 1 to 6 to the concept of graphic organisers, and the effect they have on students' learning. She explains how doodles and scribbles that students draw while learning can become a recognised and structured tool for use in the classroom and beyond.

This easy to read, hands-on guide for teachers explains how fun-shaped templates can motivate kids of all learning styles, helping them to link together various subject areas, draw conclusions, think creatively, make decisions and much more.

Under the expert guidance of Drapeau, discover how to enhance learning in your classroom with forecasting charts, creative problem solving grids, cause and effect webs, and a myriad of other fun, easy-to-understand tools.
