Summary:

You probably know kids at your school who seem to succeed at everything. They always get A's, always know the answer in class, and always get the awards at the end of the school year. Not everyone can succeed at everything, but everyone can become an achiever! There are no secret formulas. It takes some work on your part. The choice is yours. But if you are willing to try, this book will show you how.

Discover the seven steps to Becoming an Achiever:

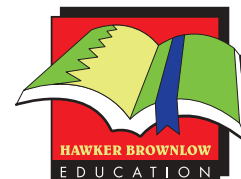

- Developing self-confidence
- Knowing how to set goals
- Becoming motivated
- Managing time and organising your life
- Developing study skills
- Learning how to take tests and other assessments
- Dealing with 'the system'

Key selling points:

- A workbook that speaks to students in their language and addresses their concerns.
- Full of examples students can relate to.
- Explains to students why they may be having difficulties in one or more areas and suggests ways to help solve these problems.

Supporting resources:

- Motivating Underachievers (HB6320)
- Surviving the Middle Years (HB6153)
- Learning to Learn (INA1905)
- Teacher's Toolbox (4033)
