Summary:

Hurrah for the great outdoors! This book is full of wonderful adventures and projects for children to explore and experiment with nature's treasures in parks, forests, on beaches or in their own backyard. There are places to explore; good materials for creating crafts and gifts and works of art; wide open spaces for games and trips; things to grow; animals to visit and things to watch, touch, hear and try! A great book for children who love to splash and jump in puddles, who enjoy winged and creeping creatures or who will swing on anything that hangs, whilst teaching them the importance of caring for our environment. Great for teachers and parents to use with pre-primary and primary aged children.

Key selling points:

- Provides practical and simple examples.
- Engages children and encourages 'think outside the square' creative thinking.
- Provides children with opportunities to interact with the natural environment.
- Encourages environmental awareness and recycling.
