Summary:

More fun in the great outdoors! This second book is full of more exciting projects and ideas for children to explore and enjoy in the natural world. There are little creatures to observe and feed, things to make and build, ways to measure the weather and many other suggestions for making the most of time outdoors. A great book for children who wonder why, who enjoy winged and creeping creatures or who will climb any heights and explore depths. With a focus on caring for the environment, this book is a treasure trove of interesting ideas for teachers and parents to use with primary aged children.

Key selling points:

- Offers a new range of exciting projects and ideas for children's outdoor play.
- Focuses on caring for the environment.
- Allows children to explore and question.
- Gives teachers new ideas for interdisciplinary topics.
