Summary

Each book in the I've Got It! series is based on a list of 35 skills that represent mastery of a particular subject matter for middle years students. I've Got It! Reading and Literature provides reproducible activities to assess students' understanding of essential reading and comprehension skills. The tasks, each just a single page, begin with a basic knowledge question and move to higher-level questions that require students to apply the skill and think critically. Progress charts help students to easily track their current understanding, and indicate where more instruction is required. Teachers can use the activities for formative assessment, as pre- and post-tests, quick check-ups or standardised test prep. Summative worksheets allow students to integrate their new-found skills.

Among other tasks, students will be encouraged to:

- Show understanding of word meaning.
- Use verbal reasoning to identify word relationships.
- Find and interpret information in fiction and nonfiction
- Compare and contrast written passages.
- Recognise and analyse story elements.
