Summary:

The new sciences of brain and mind are revealing that everyone has the capacity to become a powerful, lifelong learner. We can all learn how to learn; it has little to do with conventional intelligence or educational success. Guy Cluxton teaches us how to raise children who are curious and confident explorers, and how we ourselves can learn to pair problem-solving with creativity. With sections focussing on the early years all the way through to the business world, Wise Up is essential and compelling reading for parents, educators and managers alike.

Key selling points:

- Explanatory chapters on the role of creativity, emotion and imagination in the authentic learning process.
- Individual outlines on how learning and understanding changes throughout the early years, school, university and employment.
- Detailed section about our inner and outer learning tools and the influences on these.
- Discussion on the future of learning.

Supporting resources:

- The Brain's Behind It (NE0833)
- Building Learning Power (TLO9437)
- Discover your Hidden Talents (NE104X)
