Summary:

Some students master comprehension strategies with ease, but others need more help to master these essential strategies. Now it's easy to provide intervention targeted to students' needs. Each one-week unit in this series addresses a specific curriculum-based comprehension strategy with 5 reproducible practice and assessment activities and a consistent research-based instructional approach to ensure best practices. This 176-page book gives teachers everything they need to help their students succeed. Some of the strategies covered include: making predictions, summarising, analysing character, and using text features to locate information.
