writing about FEELINGS

Rozanne Lanczak

Do your students have trouble putting words on paper?

The Writing About series is designed to encourage reluctant writers by making writing easier and more fun.

These 22-page copy master books provide a large variety of topics. The first 20 pages have specific writing assignments and open-ended follow-up activities, including opportunities for the student to illustrate his or her own work. The last 2 pages of each book provide completely open-ended activities (writing and drawing).

Charming illustrations, simple language and clear directions make these writing starters effective for students from Year 2 to Year 4.
