

Chapter 1

The next day the sun was hiding behind a thin cover of cloud and the sea was working perfectly for surfboard riders.

Hayden, Kaylee and all of their surfing friends were down at the rock garden and out on their boards by 11.30 in the morning. There was an excited air of expectation amongst them as they surfed until the tide was right and chattered about Hayden's attempt to shoot the gap.

He shot out the other side and felt the greatest sense of success he ever had.

His friends were cheering and he felt fantastic.

He pulled out over the back of the wave and paddled over to them.

"Great one!" they cried.

Lizard felt so happy, he couldn't believe it.

Shoot the Gap

Chapter 1 .....	page 4
Chapter 2 .....	page 9
Chapter 3 .....	page 14
Chapter 4 .....	page 20
Chapter 5 .....	page 22
Chapter 6 .....	page 26

