

“I’ve got the newspaper,” said Vicki
as she came into the coffee shop.

Her friend Kiri worked in the shop.

They sat down at a table near the window.

Vicki put the newspaper across the table.
She looked at the index and turned to the page which said ‘Flats and Houses to Let’.

TO LET

ACCOMMODATION. City.
Sgl.bdrm. Perm. All facilities.
$40 p.w. Ph 677-7892.

AVAILABLE NOW. Clean 2 bdrm. flat. Unfurn. No pets.
$150 p.w. Ph 293-4668.

BELFAST ST. 3 bdrm. flat. Part furn. Bond req. $180 p.w.
Ph 632-6652.

“I bet it’ll be the same as last night,”
said Kiri.

“No it won’t.
Don’t be such a misery.
I’m sure we’ll find what we want,”
said Vicki, as she looked down the page.

“Hey! This one looks good,”
said Vicki.

“What did I tell you?”

