The Tigers had won!
They had beaten St George
by ten points to six.

Kevin felt pleased.
He lit a cigarette and stood up.
“Tough luck you guys,” he said
as he switched off the television.

Pam and Gordon were Kevin’s friends.
They had come round to his flat
to watch the game.
They were St George fans.

“You’d better have another beer,”
said Kevin.

“You’ll need cheering up
after a beating like that!”
He took a can from the pack,
broke the tab and gave it to Pam.

“Thanks,” said Pam.
She took a sip of the drink
and looked around the room.
“This is a really nice flat,” she said,
changing the subject from football.
