

The Story So Far

Jesse and his friends are considered to be the school wimps by Sly (Richard) and his group of toughs.

Jesse is constantly bullied and has put up with getting dunked in the river, having his hair chopped short, having his head flushed in the toilet... and having his lunch stolen every day.

That is, until Jesse and his friends decided to put hot chilli powder in their lunches and watched the bullies who stole them, regret having eaten them.

But Jesse and his friends decided they must change the way people at school think of them. They decided to try sport as a way of changing their wimpy image.
