

A Book Box of Ideas

This book was written to help busy classroom teachers. The activities have been designed to enable children to work in small group situations with a minimum of instruction (maybe a parent helper).

The activities have been graded according to the developmental stages of reading in the early years. These recommendations are fluid and can be altered depending on the needs and strengths of the students.

The activity cards can be used with the children's take-home books or with any book appropriate to their reading level.

Take the activity cards and photocopy them onto card. They can be laminated and used many times, as the books will be constantly changing. The teacher simply selects a card that would be most appropriate for that particular group and can modify the instructions, if necessary.

- Roll a dice.
- Find a word from your book with that amount of letters.
- If filled, miss a turn.
- First finished is the winner.
