

Save the Oceans

This seascape includes an example of a simple food chain. A large, black and white killer whale eats a smaller mackerel. The mackerel eats anchovies. Anchovies eat zooplankton which feed on phytoplankton. All sea animal life would disappear if the plankton were destroyed.

