

Writing won't necessarily continue to convey the same message wherever and whenever it is read

Our interrogation of text is shaped by our own thinking

Visual tools help us to make connections and link key ideas within text

There is a whole world beyond the text waiting to be discovered visual tools help to extract and make meaning from text

