Summary:

This resource is full of practical suggestions for teaching literacy basics during playful activities. The 15-minute activities can be incorporated into the daily curriculum and/or used throughout the day as time allows. Children will learn phonological awareness, letter identification, letter sounds, and sight words while playing games, saying rhymes, and singing songs. While learning about letters, syllables and identifying sight words with these activities, children will also develop important life skills such as social, emotional and behavioural skills, listening and attention skills, and self-awareness and esteem. The book includes lowercase and uppercase alphabet cards, alphabet picture cards, and sight word cards to use in lessons.
