Summary

“Skip to the door.” “Hoot like an owl.” “Yell out the name of your favourite chocolate bar.”

Zip-Around – Following Directions are an exciting way to promote active listening in your primary classroom. Students will love the eight fast-paced games as they sing, stamp their feet and even moo like cows while following the sequence of directions written on their individual cards. Taking only minutes to set up and play, these games are ideal for “tuning-in” exercises at the beginning of a lesson, or simply as a fun way to break up the day while working on important interpersonal skills.

An accompanying booklet contains game instructions and answer keys, as well as additional reproducible resources to demonstrate the importance of following directions.
